In Country Lands.

O, country lands, white starred with bloom, Where wild things nestle, shy and sweet, Where all your waving grasses laugh And before my eager feet Could I forever dwell with you, Letting the mad old world rush by,
And just be glad of wind and sun,
Of rocking oaks and brooding sky!

How often, in the crowded street, I dream of you, sweet country lands,
And feel once more your soft breeze Doth.

My soul's breast and weary brain Ever above the city's din, Above the clink of yellow gold, I hear a wild bird's ringing call,
I catch the scent of leafy fields and mold.

Your green grasses I would kiss, Your hawthorn droops her scented chain, I am a child again, and dream That heaven's gates have O flowers—starred lanes!

YOUNG—Mr. George Young who left here about two weeks ago, telling his friends that he was off for a little trip turned up in California as the following from a San Francisco paper will show: George Young, Esq., founder and builder of Springfield, Washington County, Kentucky, was among the survivors of Epworth's fugitives in this city last evening, and today is the guest of Dr. J. P. Richardson, Oakland, Md. Mr. Young is on a visit to the coast for the first time since the slanders which he was located here and accused in the building of many of our business houses and residences, few of which he says remain. He says thirty years has put many remarkable changes in the appearance of San Francisco and vicinity a sample of which is to be found in the city of Oakland, where the slanders were made. Mr. Young visited Denver and Salt Lake en route and after a few weeks' sojourn on the coast will take in many other points of interest on his return trip, including probably the City of Mexico and other Southern and Mexican points where for a time he was also located before leaving this state here.

OFFICE SEEKING—The office of the bookkeeper at the office under the U. S. Government is for one as it is said to be. In former years about all a person was required to have in order to land a good fat office was a political pull. Now it is quite different. The pull comes in very small but it is not all by a long way. Since the inauguration of the civil service the applicant has a hard row to hoe before he ever has a chance to use his pull. Quite a number of applicants recently tried to examination held in Louisville and they say it was hard. Although it is a hard process, this getting in line, yet when once a person is in under this protection of the civil service one is reasonably certain of remaining. A government job has many drawbacks, but even after it is secured but as a rule the salary is good and the salary is the main thing after all in any kind of old office. Most of the beginners start at small salaries—from $500 to $720 per year, but are eligible to promotion to places which pay as high as $2,500, and even more. In fact, this bright and ambitious clerk has no limitations to his opportunities. Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Milton Ailes entered the service as a messenger boy at something like $100 a year. Now his salary is $4,000. Of course there are few $4,000 jobs and also few Milton Ailes among those who enter the service in humble capacities.

AND—The life of a farmer is an easy one many respect but in others it is hard and the worries, the tribulations and trials of the honest tiller of the soil are at times enough to make one lose all faith in the good of Providence as well as all humanity. What could be more exasperating and more distressing for instance than the experience through which the farmers in this community have just been going. To see the corn and tobacco fields in which they have worked and sweated and seen to grow and flourish for a short season, only to wither and parch under the merciless rays of the sun is hard to bear. To see all of this and to be perfectly helpless as to any remedy is indeed an unenviable position. Farming is generally accounted a slow but sure occupation but in truth it is as trying and unmercenary as the elements and always will be at least until the rain making machines and the system of growing crops by electricity are perfected.

RAY—Dr. W. W. Ray the Western Asylum has at once sprung into popular favor among the officials and employees of that institution according to all reports. Capt. Pat Simms who has recently returned from the front being employed at the asylum for some time tells of a happy little occasion there a few weeks ago. The employees of the institution prepared a little surprise for Dr. Ray and on the occasion of his birthday presented him with a handsome gold watch and a letter of appreciation. It was quite a compliment to the new Superintendent and one which Dr. Ray expressed himself as fully appreciating.

RECORDED—There is a crying need for more dwelling houses in Springfield and the man with capital and enterprise who will put up a few dwellings will find it a moderate price will fill a long felt want and at the same time make a good investment for himself. It has been thus for several years and although there have been a good many houses erected within the past few years the demand has always been more. This year we will find a great growth in the town and if some good man will come along and do a little building the population and the town will go bigger still.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your neighbor and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendix.

Nervous Prostration or Heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous system and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other such. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Get Green's Prize Almanac.

Heartburn.

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, heartburn is likely to follow, and consequently so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Massage the food thoroughly. Let six hours elapse between meals and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, take one of your Green's August Flower and Live Tablets and the heartburn may be avoided. For sale by Hays & Co., Boston.

Not The Honey We Wanted.

Frank Anderson was for years a well known commercial traveler, who regularly visited Galena, Kansas. He was passionately fond of honey, and the proprietor of the Galena hotel at which he stopped always had a tin of honey on hand. One trip Anderson took his wife along, and as he approached Galena he mentioned to her that he was going to a place where he could have honey. "When the honey was sealed at the supper table," said Anderson, "I was surprised that the hotel waiter should have taken the honey to the head waiter."

"Where is my honey?"

"You mean the little black-haired one? Oh she don't work here."

And Anderson never did get it fixed up satisfactory with his wife—Kansas City Journal.

Desperate Struggle.

A special from Harrodsburg says:

The story of Mrs. William Holl's desperate struggle with a burglar at Harrodsburg was brought here this morning. Mr. Holl had gone to Harrodsburg county to spend a day or two.

That night Mrs. Hall went to sleep by an open window. About 12 o'clock she was awakened by someone placing a hand over her mouth, and on opening her eyes she was startled to find that while she slept a negro man had gotten in the bed with her.

He covered her mouth with his hand. She struggled with him and both rolled to the floor when the negro again succeeded in getting his hand over her mouth, but she struggled desperately and was able to scream when her assailant jumped from the window and escaped.

The Chief of Police Smith, who had gone to Harrodsburg to bring in Charles Baker, a negro, who had broken into a freight car there the same night, they usually occurred, believing that Barker might be Mrs. Hall's assailant took him before her for identification. She said he was dressed about like the man that entered her room, but seemed darker in color, and she could not say positively that he was the one. Barker is now in jail here to await the action of the grand jury for breaking into the car.

On account of the extremely hot weather last Monday there was a small crowd of people in town and business was dull. Only a few head of live stock were ruled low. The day was enlivened by the presence of a traveling lame and boys and the frantic bidders to come out of the shade to get bargains. There were quite a number of horse traders on the market but no money

C. C. McChord, has returned from a business trip through his railroad district. The Danville Advocate has this to say about him:—Hon. C. C. McChord, the excellent railroad commissioner of this district, was in Danville Saturday on his annual inspection tour of railroad property. He will probably be a candidate for the office in 1905.

No better worker is known in the Democratic party, and any single the gift of that organiza-ward for his services.

Mr. P. C. Cleaver has been unable to effect any settlement of the loss occasioned by the recent burning of his hotel. The insurance companies to be a branch of a road being built from Louisville to Pewee Valley by the Louisville, Anchorage and Pewee Valley Electric Railway Co. This company has recently made arrangements to raise the little sum of $15,000,000 on bonds and to use the money to build a number of electric railway lines throughout the State. The plans are given to the Corporation by one of the interested parties are as follows:

"The past few days negotiations have been completed with the East and the West through whom the road will be enabled to float $15,000,000 of ten-year 5 per cent gold bonds for the further extension of the road. The money will be at hand whenever a check is cashed."
"What are the further plans regarding this amount of money?"
"We will reach Anchorage within forty days, and be in running order to that point. The first division will be constructed from Anchorage or some point there, and will go to Shelby ville, and from there on to Eastland and New Castle. This division would be taken to Frankfort and we would then have easy access to the Bluegrass."

"It is proposed to run another line from Anchorage or some point near there to Fairview and Louisville. From Louisville a line will go to Springfield and from there on to Harrodsburg and Danville."

"From Danville lines will run to Stanford and Lancaster, and from the latter point to Richmond. From Harrodsburg a line will run to Nicholasville, and then we will have Lexington in easy striking distance."

"This plan, which is the full intention of the company to carry to a successful issue, would, starting with Jefferson county, carry the rail road line through the following counties: Shelby, Henry, Franklin, Spencer, Nelson, Washington, Marion, Boyle, Mercer, Lincoln, Garrard, Madison, Jessamine and Payette."

Hatched by the Sun.
The chirping of newly-born chickens among a dense of beech crates and barrels disturbed the freight handlers in the Northwestern depot to day. A more unfavorable birthplace for a tender foot could not be conceived and to baby chick let it be a lesson in life.

Charles Ollie, a delivery clerk located the disturbance in a track laden with cases of eggs. The slats torn away, the clerk carefully removed 30 dozen eggs, and in the utmost vigor brought to light four sturdy little but certainly not fat chicks.

Best food in the cardboard compartments which had formerly held the discarded shell.

All four of the featherless wonders found eager water and the chicks promised to grow to lusty maturity. In the freight train, a small troupe of bunching up the sign "not enough to hatch"—Omaha telegram to the New York World.
